FILMS IN PROGRESS

5th CINEMA OF TOMORROW

Peru's Ministry of Culture and the Cultural Center of the Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú (CCPUCP) are announcing this year's edition of Cinema of Tomorrow, the professional section of the 24th Lima Film Festival PUCP.

As part of this section, and following the announcement of the collaboration between the Lima Film Festival PUCP and Cinélatino Rencontres de Toulouse, Cinema of Tomorrow will now host the 38th Films in Progress, an initiative dedicated to Latin American films at the post-production stage, that was established 18 years ago.

Films in Progress will replace Cinema of Tomorrow Works in progress, by opening the section to films from all over Latin American.

The section is supported by Entity for the Management of Audiovisual Producers Rights - EGEDA Peru and Guarango Cinema and Video Association.

I. OBJECTIVES

To favor the completion of Latin American films as well as showcasing them for industry professionals and experts in order to promote alliances, technical and financial support.

II. ELIGIBILITY

Latin American films can be submitted, as well as co-productions with Latin America, as long as they are submitted on time and they match the following requirements:

- Films must be in post-production (minimum first cut)
- The cut presented must have a duration equal to or longer than 60 minutes.
- If the film is not spoken in Spanish, the cut presented for the evaluation must be subtitled in English or Spanish.

In case the film is selected:

- The cut must include English subtitles.
- The holders of the respective rights must present the document that authorizes the programming of the cinematographic work in the professional section object of this call.

III. REQUIREMENTS FOR PARTICIPATION

The companies interested in participating must be the producers of the cinematographic work and must register through the following form:

- Online registration form

The registration is free.

IV. REVIEWING SUBMISSIONS

Submissions will be reviewed and, in case errors or omissions are detected, applicants will receive a message informing that a two day additional period has been granted in order for them to complete the missing information.

The email will also indicate how to correct the information. No additional time will be granted, even in the case of technical problems suffered by the applicants. If the missing information is not presented on time, films will be considered as not submitted.

V. SELECTION PROCESS

Applications that comply with the provisions of this call will be evaluated by a Committee established by the Lima Film Festival and Cinélatino Rencontres de Toulouse. The Committee will select six (6) films that will be scheduled for online viewing, with limited access.

Additionally, the Committee can select up to four Peruvian productions which will not be part of Films in Progress but will be chosen for a non-competitive parallel program that will include the participation of experts from the film industry, with the aim of strengthening said projects.

VI. PROGRAMMING

The selected films will be available on a restricted online service for accredited professionals from Europe, Latin America and other countries, including representatives of funds, residencies, distributors, sales agents and festival programmers.

VII. AWARDS

The selected films will be eligible to receive prizes:

- The Films in Progress award given by a jury appointed by the Peru's Ministry of Culture, the Lima Film Festival PUCP and Cinélatino Rencontres de Toulouse, within the framework of Cinema of Tomorrow.

- USD 4,000.00 (Four thousand and 00/100 US dollars) awarded to the project winner of the Films in Progress award by the Entity for the Management of Audiovisual Producers Rights - EGEDA Peru.
- DCP authoring as well as Blu-Ray and H264, and one year of cloud storage for the files of the final version of the winning work, by the Guarango Cinema and Video Association.

VIII. IMPORTANT DATES:

Call for submissions:	June 5th, 2020
Registration deadline:	July 6th, 2020
Announcement of selected films:	August 6th
Films in Progress:	begins August 24, 2020
